

Cambridge Open Days - Faculty of Education

Thursday 6 July & Friday 7 July 2017

We are very much looking forward to meeting you at this year's Cambridge Open Days. The Faculty of Education will be running a full programme of events across both of the Open Days. We have put together this quick guide to help you plan for your day and make the most of your time in Cambridge.

While we will be running some events on the central site, we highly recommend setting aside some time during the day to visit the Faculty itself so you can get a real feel for what it's like to be a student here. There will also be some current students on hand who will be very happy to speak to you about the course and the University and answer any questions you might have.

We recommend that you attend one of the course presentations (either at the central site or at the Faculty) so that you can find out more about the course, the three tracks and about applying to study Education at Cambridge.

Visiting us at the information stand (either at the central site, the Faculty or both) will give you the opportunity to speak to staff and students from the Faculty, find out more about the course, pick up some leaflets and other useful bits and pieces and sign up to receive e-mail updates from us.

At the Faculty of Education you will have the opportunity to hear some pre-recorded lectures, to give you an insight into studying on the Education course.

If you have any questions about attending the Open Days or planning your trip, please don't hesitate to contact Eve Berwin (Schools Liaison Coordinator) on outreach@educ.cam.ac.uk.
