

The logo for 'fyi' is displayed in a large, lowercase, green font. The letters are bold and rounded, with a slight shadow effect. The 'f' and 'y' are connected at the top, and the 'i' has a dot.

for your information

Newsletter of the Faculty of Education Library Summer 2009

In this issue:

- Reminders for final year students
- Library photocopy cards
- Free Library membership
- Book sale
- Summer opening hours
- More new ebooks
- Useful resources

Reminders for final year students

For those of you who are due to graduate this year, please ensure that you return all Education Library material to us before your course ends. Failure to do so may prevent you from gaining your degree. You can check for outstanding items on Your Account via the Newton catalogue (<http://depfcae-newton.lib.cam.ac.uk>) or by asking a member of Library staff.

Library Photocopy Cards

Please remember to return your photocopy card to the Faculty Library once you have finished all your photocopying. Remember to use all the credit first and we will return the £1 deposit.

Free Library Membership

If you would like to continue borrowing material from the Faculty Library after your course has finished you may be entitled to join as a free member. This membership lasts for 1 year from the end of your course and is at the discretion of the Librarian. Please contact Library staff for more information.

Book sale

The book sale of old and damaged stock is ongoing in the Library - do remember to take a look as we add new material on a regular basis.

Summer opening hours

The Faculty Library will be open Monday to Friday throughout the summer, with the exception of August Bank Holiday Monday (31st). Please remember to check the Faculty webpages before planning your visit (<http://www.educ.cam.ac.uk/library/opening/>)

More new ebooks

The University Library has recently acquired access in perpetuity to all titles in the Oxford Scholarship collection of ebooks published to the end of 2008. This collection consists of a number of popular undergraduate texts which include:

- Citizenship and education in liberal-democratic societies by K. McDonough.
- Creating citizens by E. Callan
- The demands of liberal education by M. Levinson.

We now also have electronic access to Blackwell handbook of childhood cognitive development edited by Usha Goswami.

All ebooks can be accessed off-campus with your Raven password. Please contact a member of Library staff if you experience any difficulties in accessing these resources.

Useful websites

Booktrust

The Booktrust website has a section called Resources for Schools which provides links to a wide range of free downloadable resources, innovative teaching ideas, workshops, and information about children's books and authors to support all aspects of literacy teaching across the Key Stages. It is a useful resource for both primary and secondary teachers and can be accessed at <http://www.booktrust.org.uk/Resources-for-schools>

Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew

The Education section of the Kew Gardens website provides a good range of useful resources for teachers of all Key Stages. There are downloadable worksheets, teacher's packs, activities etc, many of which are for use in science and environmental education, but there are also teaching ideas which link to other curriculum areas, such as art, geography and English. The website is available at <http://www.kew.org/education/index.html>

National Foundation for Educational Research

For up-to-date information on research in education currently being undertaken or recently published, it is always worth looking at the NFER website. The list of documents includes research summaries, reports, conference papers etc. and the full text of many of them is available to download. You can search by subject, educational level and/or document type or browse the list which is organised under a number of subject headings. The web address is <http://www.nfer.ac.uk/publications/>