

Lavender Primary School pupils visit the Faculty of Education!

Enthusiastic Enfield pupils from Lavender Primary School enjoyed a taste of student life at the Faculty of Education on Tuesday 15th December.

60 Year 6 pupils and their teachers were welcomed to the Faculty for a visit designed to get the pupils thinking about what education really is, what they would like to do when they are older and the higher education opportunities that are available to them.

Eve Berwin (the Faculty's Schools Liaison Coordinator) and Emma Smith (Homerton College's Schools and Colleges Liaison Officer) hosted the day and both were extremely impressed with how well the pupils engaged with the activities.

The day included a Cambridge quiz, an interactive session on careers, hopes and dreams, a tour of Homerton College, and the opportunity to compete in teams to create an innovative learning space to engage their peers in a subject area of their choice.

"The aim of the day was to get the pupils thinking about what they want to do when they're older and how they are going to achieve those goals. I was extremely impressed with the pupils' motivation and creativity; they were all really eager to learn and they all asked really great questions. It was a real pleasure to work with the pupils and their teachers." – Eve
